

“Accreditation-Proofing” for Therapy and Activity Programs In Residential Aged Care

So you have started working in residential aged care...

Your facility manager is asking you questions about Accreditation. Do you have evidence to support the Standards? Have you done any continuing improvement activities? Are you ready for survey?

The problem is... no one ever really told you what Accreditation is —how it works, what your obligations are, what to expect from a survey. Yet Accreditation is one of the most significant organisational influences in the aged care environment.

This workshop is suitable for:

- Occupational therapists
- Physiotherapists
- Allied Health Assistants and
- Lifestyle coordinators
- OT and PT students who want to understand the Accreditation process in the context of their roles.

Participants will develop a toolbox of ideas to establish work practices that routinely uphold the Standards. You can take the stress out of Accreditation
